Drought - no better time to get the most out of your feed

With the prospect of drier than normal conditions again this season it is a time when graziers need to get the most out of the feed they provide for their stock.

Although most would be tightening the budget belt significantly as we move forward into October with little prospect of Spring rain it is in fact a golden opportunity to consider some alternatives as part of the feed budget that will actually assist with returns rather than just becoming another expense.

As most will agree, the rains will come again, and as such it is important to consider your management practices now so that when they do your livestock are in a position to best 'blossom' immediately rather than playing 'catch up' for the first session after the break.

SANDY BRYANT'S MIXTURE is just such a product.

The formulation of the Organically Stabilised Minerals and nutrients in SANDY BRYANT'S MIXTURE allows for them to reach the correct part of the digestive system before they are broken down and taken into the body resulting in less waste and more gains from every mouth-full of food consumed for each individual animal.

So it makes sense that when buying supplementary feed (hay, silage, grain) to also include a drum of SANDY BRYANT'S MIXTURE as part of this, which, when given as a drench or through the 'Floator Doser' into the water points at 6 weekly intervals, is a relatively low cost input for the greater good and condition of the herd and / or flock.

You can view a 'Floator Doser' on our web site at www.sandybryant.com.au

Sea Lake Ram Sale held 25th September 2006

SANDY BRYANT'S MIXTURE representatives recently enjoyed a day at the Fraser Stud Ram Sale at Sea Lake. The weather turned on a beautiful day, which it is want to do in a drought, but even with the prevailing dry conditions the attendance was still impressive.

Needless to say the rams, both Poll Dorset and White Suffolk that had all been regularly maintained using SANDY BRYANT'S MIXTURE since weaning, looked in tip top shape in spite of the hard times of the last 12 months, and the bidding on some lots rivalled a South Melbourne liquidated house Auction!

Another successful auction by Rob West from Swan Hill and his Elders team.

Our congratulations must go to the following who each received a complimentary 20ltr Drum of SANDY BRYANT'S MIXTURE

N. McNAULTY, LOGAN - MOST RAMS BOUGHT ON THE DAY

J. CURRAN, ROBINVALE - HIGHEST PRICE PAID ON THE DAY

No doubt their stock are now enjoying the benefits of a dose of SANDY BRYANT'S MIXTURE.
